

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Environmental responsibilities are integral to the way we do business. As a major Australian marine fuel distributor and infrastructure company Baileys Marine Fuels Australia (BMFA) recognises the condition of the marine and coastal environment in which we operate, including ecosystem health, water quality and biodiversity, as integral to our environmental management context. Successfully managing environmental performance is an essential component of BMFA's business strategy.

BMFA is committed to:

- The use of processes, practices, techniques, technologies, materials, products, services or energy to avoid, reduce or control (separately or in combination) the creation, emission or discharge of any type of pollutant or waste, to reduce adverse environmental impacts and use resources sustainably.
- Conducting our operations in compliance with all relevant compliance obligations.
- Systematically identifying opportunities and controlling environmental risks arising from our operations, by maintaining our environmental management system in compliance with ISO 14001 Environmental Management Systems.
- Managing changes to our Environmental Management System, operations, infrastructure and activities in a planned manner to prevent unintended adverse environmental impacts.
- Seek to continually improve our environmental performance by setting and reviewing environmental objectives through Environmental Improvement Plans.
- Promoting a culture that encourages employees, contractors and clients to identify and promote health, safety and environmental initiatives.
- Providing a safe environment for employees, contractors, stakeholders, customers and third parties who operate on our premises and or use our facilities.

Our mission is to be the industry leader in the delivery of marine services, fuels, lubricants and associated infrastructure to the Australian marine industry through the adoption of industry best practice dedicated to minimising impacts to the environment, preventing pollution and preventing harm to our employees, clients and communities.

BMFA is committed to the continual improvement of the suitability, adequacy and effectiveness of our Environmental Management System to enhance environmental performance.
